

Justin has been working as a professional in water efficiency with the Region of Peel since 2015. He assists in the development of market transformation programs that address outdoor water efficiency targets. Justin is currently managing the Water Smart Irrigation Professional Program and his experience working with industry and partner organizations like Landscape Ontario and York Region has helped to increase program reach.